

Do you have the
migraine...
...or does the migraine have YOU?
Find out if the LAIJ study is an option for you.

Right now, the LAIJ clinical research study is enrolling adults with migraine. Researchers are testing an investigational drug to learn if it may help treat migraine attacks.

You may qualify to participate in the LAIJ study if you:

- Are at least 18 years of age
- Have been suffering from migraine for at least 1 year
- Have about 3 to 8 migraine attacks per month, but less than 15 headache days per month

All study medication and study-related care will be at no cost to you if you qualify.

Take action and contact us today.